About Me

As a professional graphic designer and proactive problem solver I have managed to get a few awards under my belt. Most recently GDUSA's 2011 InHouse Design Award for Climb; a Corporate Program.

My work history shows my ability to create and uphold brand identity with ing concepts that have resonance for the design, color theory and typography across print and web.

My vision, ownership and results demonstrate my motivation, problem solving, organization and customer relationship skill set.

Objective: Seeking opportunities with a broad range of problem solving from branding, print, packaging, advertising, signage and multimedia. Will utilize strengths to the company's benefit.

I look forward to the challenge of designclient and consumer.

When I am not doing design I enjoy hands on art: ceramics, jewelry making, water colors and oil painting. Recently I have experimented with lomo photography (35 mm) as well as digital.
